About the CRRA

The Calgary Residential Rental Association (CRRA), established in 1959, is Alberta's largest residential rental association, representing over 600 members managing more than 100,000 rental units.

Our diverse membership includes private and nonprofit property owners, property managers, and service providers.

As the leading voice for Alberta's residential rental industry, the CRRA provides landlords with advocacy, market insights, resources, education, and tools to effectively manage properties and foster positive tenant relationships.
